ADDRESS BY MRS. GURNEY

Vice President of State League of Women Voters Tells Andover Women How to Become Part of "An Intelligent Electorate."

The most important factor in the nation's government today, as it always has been, is not the President or the republic, not the senators or congressmen, but an intelligent electorate. This very pertinent truth was given out by Mrs. Herbert I. Gurney of Boston, vice president of the State League of Women Voters at a meeting of the local organization held in Pynchard hall last Friday evening.

Mrs. Gurney thinks that the leagues of women voters are among the most important organizations that are functioning today. "These leagues are non-partisan, or rather all partisan, as they study the great issues of each party and talk over the fundamentals of those things that are best for the nation as a whole, rather than what each party wishes."

The speaker is a firm believer that each woman should ally herself with one party, not because her family had always been either Democratic or Republican, but because she knows for what each party stands. She advised her hearers to be intelligent along these lines knowing the fundamental facts that underlie every big question pertaining to national welfare and voting accordingly.

Mrs. Gurney believes in ideals, which she says are quite different from theories. When one strives for an ideal one has something definite in view; one's aim is high. The league stands for an ideal; for the higher efficiency or honorable men in office.

Everything that affects the nation affects every individual in the nation. Mrs. Gurney cited several instances that illustrated this, showing that the most remote things may affect the people. Thus everything that is for the good of the nation is for the good of the people of that nation, individually and collectively.

She urged the open mind; a mind that sees both sides of the question; that judges fairly, honorably and squarely and without individual prejudice. She urged the public mind; the mind that intelligently discusses the affairs of the nation, not leaving things for others to take an individual interest; and she urged the world mind; that which

BAPTIST CHURCH PICNIC

Fall Outing of Church School Held at Hart's Pond in Chelmsford with Sports and Races.

Saturday furnished ideal weather for the annual Sunday school picnic of the Baptist church, which of late years has been held in the fall of the year. A truckload of children and older people accompanied by others in automobiles left the church at 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning for Hart's pond, South Chelmsford, and the day was spent in boating and swimming, the children enjoying the swings and seesaws that are situated in the grounds.

At noon basket lunch was served, augmented by lemonade, candy and frankfurts which were sold.

A number of races were run off and the winners were as follows:

Little children's race—Frank Byam, first; Dorothy Gordon, second.

Girls' race—Beatrice Stevens, first; Ruth Sawyer, second.

Boys' race—Hans Gordon, first; Nathan Henry, second.

Little girls' race—Mildred Gordon, first; Marion Rice, second.

Boat race for men—Alexander Rice, first; Clare Norton, second.

Boat race for girls—Rachael Byam, first; Dora Demmon, second.

The committee in charge of the affair comprised Perley Gilbert, chairman; Mr. and Mrs. Clare Norton, Mrs. John R. Bacon, Raymond Wilson and Charles Stone.

COMMENT ON TAX RATE

One of Andover's Heavy Tax Payers Analyzes Editor's Comment on $28.00 Tax Rate.

The announcement of Andover's tax rate for this year has called forth from the Editor of the Townsman two very surprising and heartening statements—statements worthy of special notice because their author is conversant as few others with the internal affairs of our town and also because he is one of the chief spokes in the wheel of town planning.

Great and lasting credit is due him for many of the changes and improvements that have helped to keep Andover in the forefront of progress. Therefore his statements upon town needs and conditions are worthy of consideration and careful analysis. His first statement with reference to our present tax rate is one of personal satisfaction. He says: "The tax rate is very satisfactory."

His satisfaction, he tells us, is due to two facts; first, that it is not over $28 per thousand, in view of our extensive town improvements, and second, that our rate this year is still below that of "most of the towns where the call for improvements has been at all answered in recent years." His feeling of satisfaction is shared by many. When we recall the fact that at our last town meeting we voted to spend this year on our highways alone the unprecedented sum of $175,000, and $40,000 for the relaying of a larger water main pipe in Shawheen village and $40,000 for a new home for our poor, and $5,000 for survey in connection with the relocation of filter beds, together with extra money for police and fire departments—when we consider all this extra expense over last year, we are surprised and gratified that our tax rate is no higher than $28 per thousand.

The Tyer Rubber Company which for many years has paid to the Town of Andover the largest corporation tax, now gives way to the Shawheen mills with a tax of $23,808.40 taking second place on the list with a tax of $18,219.60. Smith and Dove is assessed at $17,136.00 the M. T. Stevens company at $10,733.80 and the Lawrence Gas company $9,554.60.

The Arden trust, to which much valuable property in Shawheen Village is assessed, is a new name on the list and pays the substantial sum of $8,988. This new trust company accounts for the fact that the tax of William M. Wood is reduced from $8,067.28 in 1921 to $637.00 in 1922, leaving the heirs of Jacob W. Barnard as the heaviest tax payers with a contribution to the town treasury of $3,932.28. The others are also over the two thousand mark; H. Bradford Lewis $2,201.00; Maurice J. Curran $2,367.40; and Samuel Resnik trustees $2,160.20.

The figures given below include the tax on real and personal property but not the charge for moth work.

LAWRENCE COLONIAL

Every player in the cast of "The Lily" at the Lawrence Colonial Theatre this week deserves credit for an excellent performance, the special praise, of course, being given to Maud Blair for her impersonation of the elder sister, and Frank Chautau for the remarkable delineation of the father. A Belasco play is beyond the capabilities of the usual stock company, but Mr. Steele's Players are fully equal to it. The settings, too, are correct and elaborate. The company well merit a liberal patronage.

For next week the Colonial play will be Edward E. Rose's idyll of Erin, the singing comedy written for Walter Scanlon, and quite recently produced by him at the Plymouth Theatre, Boston. Mr. Rose is especially happy in his portrayal of life in Ireland, past and present, and Mr. Dingle, who will appear as Dan Reilly, the Galway fisher lad, is gifted with a splendid singing voice. Among the songs he will render are "Kathleen," "My Galway Rose," "Mavourneen," and his own composition, "The Voice of Old Ireland is Calling." The play is one of life, love and adventure, unspiced by political realism, and thoroughly enjoyable to all real drama lovers.

HOLLIS STREET

When Sam H. Harris sends out an attraction from New York, he generally makes it one well worth seeing. "Nice People," the comedy in which he presented his young star, Francine Lamore, at the Hollis Street Theatre last Monday night, was no exception to that rule. It was one of the most delightful comedies that has been presented in Boston for some time. And as for the star—well, she is one of the daintiest, brightest little comedienne that Boston has seen in a generation. What is more, the young lady can act. She is an artist, finished to the tips of her dainty finger tips. Her performance of the willful little rich girl who defies all conventional ideas of propriety only to find that in the end it does not pay, is as enjoyable as it is rare as a bit of theatrical artistry.

"Nice People" is a product of the pen of that clever playwright, Rachel Crothers, whose "Old Lady 31," "39 East," "The Heart of Paddy Whack" and other plays have already made famous. It is written in her best vein and is an arraignment of the old conventionalities of Nice People, who allow their daughters to smoke, drink cocktails and dance all night in cabarets without chaperones. It depicts the adventures of one Teddy Gloucester, the daughter of a rich man, who is the leader of her set and demands herself quite powerful enough to defy all the old rules of propriety. She, with a male companion, takes a night ride into the country and reaches the country home of the Gloucesters in time to escape a terrific storm which compels them to remain in the house all night. Scandal becomes active. Teddy sees her blunder, but finally triumphs with the aid of a good friend. Miss Lamore's supporting company is an excellent one, every member of it being selected with reference to his or her fitness for the character assigned. The scenic and other stage appointments are unusually fine.

Miscellaneous Shower

A very pleasant affair occurred at the home of Miss Mary Caldwell on Elm street last Friday evening, when the friends of Miss Jean MacDonald showered her with a number of beautiful gifts in honor of her approaching marriage to Charles Dallas of Beverly.

On the pretext of visiting another friend, Miss MacDonald was taken to the home of Miss Caldwell where she was received by a large number of guests. During the evening games were played and refreshments served. A feature was a mock wedding which added to the jollity of the evening. The bride was Mrs. McIntosh; the groom, Miss Annie Ramsey; the best man, Mrs. Lizzie Wright and the bridesmaid, Mrs. Margaret Jacobs. The minister was Mrs. Agnes Eckblade.

Miss Mary Caldwell and Miss Marjorie Bissett served the refreshments which consisted of cookies, cake, ice cream and punch. Miss MacDonald has just resigned her position in the Andover steam laundry and she was presented with a fine cut glass water set and tray by the other employees of the firm.

Among those present at the shower were Miss Annie McIntosh, Mrs. E. Laskey, Frances Laskey, Mrs. Irving, Nellie Irving, Mrs. George Abbott, Susie Keery, Teresa McDonald, Annie Ramsey, Jean McDonald, Grace Lake, Mrs. Mary Milligan, Grace Wright, Rodnah Finger, Marjorie Bissett, Mrs. A. Wright, Susan Bissett, Mrs. Jacobs, Mrs. May Ingalls, Mrs. Eckblade and Mrs. Pitts.

Miscellaneous Shower

Miss Mary A. Welch, who is to be married shortly to John Alexander of North Andover, was tendered a miscellaneous shower Monday evening at her home on Summer street by the girls of the Tyer Rubber company make-up room. About sixty of her friends were present and showered her with gifts of linen, tinware, silverware and pyrex. A mock marriage was carried out and musical selections were given by members of the gathering.

Those who took part in the mock marriage were Miss Ellen O'Connors, clergymen; Miss Kate Donovan, bride; Miss Ivy Hackney, groom.

Refreshments of sandwiches, cakes and coffee were served.

COMMENT ON TAX RATE

But the keen edge of our satisfaction is somewhat blunted by the reflection that only a trifle of this extra expense falls within this year's tax levy. None of the $100,000, of borrowed money for the reconstruction of the main street, and only six months' interest on the $40,000 borrowed for relaying the Shawheen water main, comes out of this year's taxes. Payments on these bonds begin next year. In spite of this deferral burden, however, we have exceeded last year's budget, $40,000. This excess would jump our tax rate this year $4 per thousand, or to $30.50 per thousand instead of $28. That it does not do this is because of the phenomenal building operations at Shawheen Village which have added this year alone $1,106,375 to our property valuation.

We may well share the satisfaction of the Editor also in the fact that our tax rate is still below that of many other towns. While our tax rate has increased only $1.50, that of Oxford has jumped to $21.60 or nearly double that of a year ago. Many towns in our state pay a much higher tax than Andover; Monson's tax rate is $41, while one town in another state—New Jersey—has a tax rate of $57.

Andover is in no immediate danger of a $40 tax rate. She has been steadily moving toward this rate for the last ten years, but her rate of speed has been greatly lessened by the totally unforeseen and phenomenal increase of real-estate values for the last three years at Shawheen Village. No town in Massachusetts can compare with Andover in this respect. A $1,000,000 a year—one tenth of her total valuation is being built in our midst. The writer very much doubts if the people of our town, as a whole, are yet awake to the significance of what Mr. Wood, as President of the American Woolen Company, is doing for the permanent growth and prosperity of Andover. It is too small honor to have as one of its citizens, and a lover of the town, a man gifted with so broad a vision, controlling such vast wealth, and choosing to select Andover in preference to a score of other towns, for the realization of his gigantic building schemes. It behooves Andover people adequately to appraise his value and the work he is accomplishing in their midst, and to aid him in every possible way in the furtherance of his valuable plans. Just here, since the above was written, comes the news of the recent generous gift of the American Woolen Company to the town of a fine and extensive lot of land for the erection of a new school building at Shawheen. This gift and its grateful acceptance by the selectmen and school committee acting for the town, reflects the genuine spirit of cooperation and mutual helpfulness that dominates Mr. Wood and the best class of our citizens. It should dispel forever any lingering suspicion on the part of a small minority of our citizens that Mr. Wood's attitude has ever been other than hospitable toward Andover's highest welfare.

The writer submits to the intelligent voters of Andover the reasonableness of keeping the town's expenses year by year well within this enlarging circle of income. The Editor frankly avows his belief that we will. He says $28 "probably sets the high water mark for some years to come."

He would confer a great favor upon the many readers of the Townsman, who depend upon this avenue of information for dependable knowledge of town affairs, if he would disclose the data for his encouraging statement. The writer frankly confesses to his own inability to fill such data, and this because of the following facts:

For the last ten years Andover's yearly budget has overlapped her income and this overlap has been provided for by boosting her valuation and increasing her tax rate. It has not mattered how great her yearly ratio of income, her yearly ratio of expenses has outrun it. It did this before the war, during the war, and ever since the war; it did this before the American Woolen Company did a stroke of building at Shawheen and it has done this during the last three years of this new building; it has done it this year, in spite of the phenomenal addition of $1,106,375, valuation to our town, and this by some $20,000. Several years ago the writer declared in open town meeting that Mr. Wood could not build fast enough to keep pace with Andover's increasing outlays. This has proven true. No amount of income can match Andover's yearly ambition so long as she pursues her present policy. It has not been the tax rate of any given year that the writer has protested, but rather this tendency or policy to spend beyond its income by running deeper and deeper into debt, increasing its interest charges, boosting its valuation and raising its tax rate. This policy the writer continues to condemn as contrary to financial law, good business judgment, and the ultimate good of the town.

Ten years ago Andover's budget was $122,574, today it is $337,000, in round numbers, or nearly three times as much. Ten years ago our tax rate was $16.50, today it is nearly double. We have raised the valuation during this time over $1,000,000. Now this has been the consistent policy of the town, a policy accentuated year by year. In the very teeth of this fact what reason can the Editor adduce for his belief that this policy of spreading year by year beyond its normal income will be changed and our constantly changing tax rate become stabilized? What are the prospects for next year? Suppose $1,106,000 taxable estate property becomes available for next year's taxes, what then? Nearly the entire income from this increased valuation would be required to pay the $24,500, due on principal and interest on Main street loan. In addition to this payment on this loan we have to meet the first payment on the new water bond of $40,000. On top of this comes the demand for a new schoolhouse in Shawheen at a cost not less than $125,000, also an outlay of $150,000, for new disposal of our sewage. Nor is this all. The present reconstruction of Main street calls loudly for granolithic sidewalks to match this "finest road in the state." Then, it is wholly outside the realm of belief that the remainder of Main street from the square to Stimpson's Bridge will be left in its present condition. Every reason for reconstructing the present section of Main street clamors for the continuance and completing of this work. This will require at least $100,000, more. Can the Editor hope for any reduction in the demand for school appropriation, or for the regular outlay by the Board of Public Works, or for the maintenance of our Police and Fire Departments, on for payment on town bonds? For years the Board of Public Works has been demanding a Cement bridge over Shawheen river on Central street. Such is the change in tonnage in trucks that this work cannot much longer be safely postponed. This will require another $10,000 and how about our War Memorial and a host of other demands, not mentioning the Civic Centre Project, which has been publicly espoused by the committee having it under advisement. The writer disclaims the title of a "pessimist" by his esteemed friend the Editor, but he declares that the man, who in the face of the town policy pursued for the last ten years, and conspicuously dominating her action at our last town meeting, and avowedly professed by the Finance Committee and the leading citizens of the town; in the face of the voluntary indifference of the voters to town affairs and consequent ignorance of its needs and highest concerns, coupled with the cowardice of so many to openly avow their conviction—in the face of all this—the man who finds ground for the Editor's assurance of a stabilized tax rate for "some years to come," must gather into his personality the optimism of the world. Nothing but a complete right-about-face in the mental and moral attitude of the town, can warrant Mr. Cole's statement. This mental and moral change will ultimately come, but not for some years. The momentum of extravagance accelerated during the war is still too great. Men, high in authority and power are crowding on the brakes. President Harding said: "There is not a menace in the world today like that of growing indebtedness and mounting public expenditures. There has seemingly grown up an impression that public treasuries are inexhaustible." Governor Cox is commended for nothing so highly as for his strenuous endeavors to check this stampede of public profligacy. The Editor very justly commends him, in the last issue of the Townsman, for his "pay-as-you-go" policy. If this policy is wise for the United States and for Massachusetts, why not for Andover? How can the Editor commend this policy in Governor Cox and not urge the same policy upon Andover Citizens?

With $28,000 a year increase, from a $1,000,000 of new valuation, year by year, by the American Woolen Company, there is no longer any excuse for Andover's running deeper and deeper into debt and continuing to place upon the rent-payers and owners of small town holdings, heavier yearly burdens. We trust that the Editor will show "beyond a reasonable doubt" why he believes this will not long be necessary. One thing is certain—a time will prove the wisdom or the folly of our present town policy.

Autumn Leaf Supper and Sale at South Church

Autumn leaves in all their rich profusion of coloring will transform the vestries of the South Church next Friday afternoon and evening, October 6, when a sale and supper will take place under the auspices of The King's Daughters and the A. P. C. Sorority. It has been the custom in the South Church for a number of years to hold in the fall a harvest supper, and it has always been a rallying time for all the members and friends of the church. This year the supper will be provided by the A. P. C. Sorority, composed of some of the younger women of the church, and an organization which since its inception not so very long ago, has more than once exhibited its ability in the catering line. The supper will be served at 6.30 o'clock and anyone in town, irrespective of church connection, who is interested to attend will be welcome. A charge of thirty-five cents per plate will be made, and tickets for the supper can be secured in advance from members of the Sorority, or can be purchased at the door.

The King's Daughters will also have a share in the evening. They have been working during the summer preparing articles of various kinds, which will be placed on sale from four to ten o'clock. Children's articles, including clothing, toys, etc., kitchen needs, such as aprons, sweeping caps, clothespin bags, towels, holders, kitchen reminders, and other utilities, as well as miscellaneous articles, home-made food and candy will be attractively displayed, and The King's Daughters solicit the patronage of their friends.

Andover Boy Ordained

Rev. Francis Ronan, O. S. A. was ordained priest by his eminence Cardinal Dougherty at Villanova, Pennsylvania, September 24.

He will celebrate his first mass at St. Augustine's church, Andover, on Sunday, October 1, with Rev. Fr. William Donovan of Schaghticoke, N. Y., as deacon and Rev. Fr. Michael Hopkins as sub deacon. Rev. Fr. Michael S. Rordan, St. Lawrence church, will deliver the sermon.

Rev. Fr. Ronan was born in Andover and his family attended the ordination.

ADDRESS BY MRS. GURNEY

knows that this nation is no longer isolated, but is being more and more every day brought into closer relationships with the other nations of the world.

An all-partisan League of Women Voters is of such paramount importance because in it, all parties are working together for the establishment of fundamental aside from any party. Women are responsible not only for implanting the ideals of good government in other women, but in the growing men and women. To do this fairly, they must get away from too ardent partisanship and be able to think clearly and logically through a thing to the end,—must be idealists thoroughly grounded in the principles of good government,—with eyes fixed on the goal.

In conclusion Mrs. Gurney said that the League of Women Voters hopes to reach all women, to educate them in these fundamentals and prepare them to enter their respective parties with a better spirit, a truer understanding and a knowledge of the principles underlying good government.

A short business meeting was held after the close of Mrs. Gurney's address and plans for the winter discussed.

Mrs. John Morrill, chairman of the membership committee reported seventy-nine new members.

The opportunity for joining the League will remain open to all women of Andover, whether registered voters or not. A card to Mrs. Morrill will bring full information as to the winter program and the advantage of becoming a member before the October meeting.

Famous Musicians to Play at Lawrence Colonial Theatre

Andover people who have enjoyed the Sunday afternoon concerts at the Colonial Theatre, Lawrence, the past four seasons will be glad to learn that they are to be offered again this year.

Announcement comes that a course of three concerts will be given on the course ticket plan and subscriptions are invited. The person who buys the course ticket will not only save a considerable sum of money but will have the choice of seats and the same seat for each concert.

SOPHIE BRASLAU, Contralto

REINALD WERRENWATH, Baritone

To be heard at the Sunday afternoon concerts in the Colonial Theatre, Lawrence

The artists being presented in the course are Jascha Heifetz, violinist, Sophie Braslau, contralto, and Reinald Werrenrath, baritone. All are new to Lawrence concert audiences, but none is unknown as an artist. Heifetz, the wonder violinist whose fee for his season is $2,500 or $1,000 more than Fritz Kreisler received for his most recent Lawrence appearances, will open the course on October 22. This will be the opening concert of his 1922-23 tour.

Sophie Braslau, a great favorite with concert goers and generally regarded as the best contralto now doing concert work, will appear on November 19. Her concert will be the opening event of Music Week in Lawrence, a week which last year provided much enjoyment for Andover music lovers as well. Reinald Werrenrath's concert is set for January 14. He is in as big demand as ever this season. His work has been steadily upward and just now he is at the peak of his artistry. He has not sung in Lawrence since the time when, as a soloist, he appeared with the now defunct Choral Society.

Season or course tickets are on sale at the Colonial Theatre box-office. Mail orders are being filled now.

Showing of Models to Be Sold at Rainbow Fete

A few models of articles which may be ordered from the Rainbow Fete Fancy Table Committee will be on exhibition at the home of Mrs. George F. French, 12 School street, on Tuesday afternoons, October 23rd and 24th. All ladies are cordially invited to call and inspect them.

Gladiolus Tea for the Andover Guild

The first of the floral teas for the benefit of the Andover Guild given by the League of Women Voters was held under happy auspices at the home of Miss Sarah MacKeown on Wednesday afternoon.

The continued fine weather brought out an attendance of seventy-five and permitted charming decorations of cut garden flowers, conspicuous among which were gorgeous gladioli from the garden of Frederic S. Boutwell, treasurer of the Andover Guild. Guests were greeted by Mrs. George Dick, hostess of the day, and chairman of the League committee for "The Pot of Gold." Tea was poured by Mrs. H. Winthrop Peirce, Mrs. George Ingram and Mrs. Colver Stone, and punch was served by Mrs. Charles Clark. Those who assisted in serving were: Miss Sarah MacKeown, Mrs. Herbert Fraser, Mrs. Arthur Bliss, Jr., Mrs. Philip Hardy and Mrs. Roy Hardy.

A pleasant surprise for the guests was an informal talk given by Dr. Bowker of Lawrence. The popular lecturer gave his hearers some interesting information on the political situation in Smyrna and described the last presentation of the Passion Play which he witnessed at Oberammergau. Dr. Bowker was introduced by Mrs. Herbert Fraser, president of the Andover League of Women Voters.

The committee in charge of the afternoon's entertainment were Mrs. George Dick, chairman, Mrs. Sarah MacKeown, Mrs. George Ingram, and Mrs. Philip Hardy.

Local Golfer Distinguishes Himself at Auburndale

Full credit should be given to Jim Eaton, Merrimack Valley Country club, member of the Harvard golf team for two years and now in the Harvard Law school, for his fine showing in the three days' open amateur tournament which was concluded last Friday afternoon at the Woodland Golf Club, Auburndale.

Eaton after qualifying Wednesday in the first flight, or championship division, proved the sensation of the tourney. He disposed of Clark Hodder, Commonwealth Country club, and winner of ten prizes in open events this year, in the first round of match play, by two and one. Next he beat Bob Clough, Winchester, in the second round, four and three.

Friday forenoon, in one of the semifinal matches, Eaton again upset predictions by scoring a win over Eddie Lowery, Norfolk, one of the best match players in the state, only to fall before A. M. Hoxie, Wollaston, in the final contest of eighteen holes, four and three.

It is the first time Eaton has ever competed in a three days' event comprising medal and match play.

In the Eaton-Lowery match, outward half, the latter who scored a forty-one stood one up. Eaton evened the match at the tenth by running down a twenty-foot putt. From then on it was an interesting contest, the eleventh, twelfth and thirteenth holes being halved.

Eaton brought his niblick into play at the thirteenth and got a half in four. This same club came in handy at the fourteenth when he played his third to within seven feet of the flag from out of the rough among the trees and then laid Lowery a stymie, winning the hole, five to six.

Lowery over-approached at the fifteenth, losing the hole, Eaton executing another fine niblick hot from 75 yards short of the green to within ten feet of the cup, taking the hole in five to six. They halved the sixteenth. The seventeenth, played poorly by both contestants, was halved in seven, the match going to Eaton by two and one.

Jimmy Eaton continued his golfing rampage of the past week by winning his way into the finals for the Merrimack Valley Country club championship for the second time in two years, working into the final bracket by defeating John F. O'Connell one up on the eighteenth green in their semifinal match. He will play the winner of the match between Bert Dole, club champion, and Charles L. Lanigan, runner-up last year, for the 1922 title.

Eaton played in the finals two years ago, only losing out on the thirty-sixth hole. Last year the pair met in the semi-final round and he carried Dole to the twentieth hole before the champion eliminated him. Eaton has been playing beautiful golf recently and will be strongly favored by many to win the title.

Eaton went into the semi-finals by eliminating George H. Buttern, Dole defeated Dr. John J. Bartley, Lanigan won from Dr. Charles F. Gabeler and O'Connell put Dr. Charles G. Hatch out, four up and two to play.

Dole and Lanigan were drawn to play together and Eaton and O'Connell were picked as opponents. Eaton was picked to win on account of the fine article of golf he has been registering recently, but O'Connell gave him a real battle all the way, only succumbing on the home green.

The eighteenth hole was a heart breaker. Eaton was one up going to the eighteenth. O'Connell's long drive was in the trap to the right of the fairway. Eaton's second shot also landed in the trap just off the green. O'Connell played a beautiful second shot out of the trap, dropping the ball on the green. He missed a long putt and went down in four. Eaton made a fine recovery, laying his approach shot out of the trap dead to the pin and going down in four. The halved hole gave him the match.

Eaton also played in the first open tournament of the new Sandy Burr Country club at Wayland Saturday. His round of seventy-nine was the fourth best gross, but his handicap of seven for seventy-two only gave him tenth place in the net scores. George Aulbach of Scarborough was low with a gross of sixty-eight and a net of sixty-four.

Book Exhibit at the South Church

Angelo Patri said in the Boston Herald a few days ago—

Reading is so much more important than most people think.

We read so much that we take it as a matter of course. We don't think about the effect our reading is having upon us. As a matter of fact, isn't it true that we get almost all our opinions, our knowledge, and our beliefs from what we read?

A man's mind is cast by the newspaper he reads. His paper says so and therefore that matter is settled for him. Few of us sift and sort and decide for ourselves.

In that light isn't it necessary for us to see that what the children read is the best matter we can get for them? The story is the bait to coax them to master the difficult process. But the story, even though it seems so incidental must be the right sort. It must have the essential spirit of literature.

The church is proud of her literature. There is nothing finer than the Bible. Nothing more interesting and inspiring than religious books new and old. On Wednesday afternoon and evening of October 11th, there will be an exhibit of Bibles from the Bible Rooms in Boston from which orders will be taken; also a loan exhibit of religious books. Any member of the church or congregation who has some book of special value for the exhibit is asked to bring it to the South Church on Sunday morning, October 8th, where George Ripley will take charge of.

Hugh Walpole to Lecture in Andover

Everyone who is familiar with modern English literature has heard of Hugh Walpole, the brilliant English novelist, or has read some of his fascinating stories. Special interest therefore attaches to the announcement that this delightful writer is to lecture in the Stone chapel at Andover on Monday, November 20, when he will discuss certain phases of the modern English novel. He will incidentally review the works of such eminent writers as Joseph Conrad, Arnold Bennett, H. G. Wells and John Galsworthy, whom he numbers among his personal acquaintances.

Although he is still under forty, Mr. Walpole has written eleven novels that have placed him in the front ranks of authorship, including his famous stories of Russian life, "The Dark Forest" and "The Secret City."

Since his earliest youth, it may be added, Mr. Walpole has been a great admirer of this country. His father, the late Bishop of Edinburgh, was, for a time, professor of Theology at the Union Theological Seminary, New York. In recent years he has revisited this country and has travelled extensively. It is quite probable that one of his future novels will have an American setting.

During his lecture tour last year Mr. Walpole was greeted by record-breaking audiences and made a deep impression by his magnetic, attractive personality. His views on contemporary literature aroused unusual interest. There is every indication that his present tour will be even more successful.

Dr. Conroy Elected Chairman of Joint Committee on Shawheen School

At a meeting of the joint committee formed by the Andover school committee and the selectmen of the town held Tuesday night in Andover it was voted to call a special town meeting soon to take action on the generous offer of Wm. M. Wood to donate to the town a site for a school in the Shawheen district.

Walter S. Donald of the joint committee resigned as chairman. A unanimous vote of thanks was extended to him by his associates. Dr. Edward C. Conroy was elected to succeed him as chairman of the joint mittee.

Christ Church Notes

It will be Rally Day, in the Church school on Sunday. At the service there will be an address by Miss Helen Walker, who has had an unusual experience this summer in Labrador as teacher and religious worker. Miss Walker was formerly a teacher in the primary department of the school.

The Circle of Friendship will meet this coming Wednesday at the Rectory. They will sew for their coming Bazaar. This guild attended the tea for the Andover Guild in a body on last Wednesday.

Phillips Brooks Chapter has met the last two Thursdays in the Parish House, and the work of the year is getting under way.

The Girls Friendly Society held a business meeting last Monday night. Their regular meetings will begin on Monday October 9th, and the full program for the year will be ready for announcement then.

Nine thousand, one hundred and ninety-four immigrants entered Palestine during 1921.

Enjoy Fishing Trip Off Ipswich

Several members of the local R. C. O. A. enjoyed a fishing trip off the coast Sunday. John Carse pulled in an eight-pound pollock, the biggest catch of the trip. He also caught the most.

Among those who made the trip were: Chester Harnden, Clifford Marshall, William McKee, William Hatch, James Low, Ernest King, John Carse, William Lindsay, James Feather, Ralph Cole, Al King and Henry Pomeroy.

Abbot Academy Notes

Abbot Academy began its fall term last week with a registration of 140 boarding-pupils and 36 day scholars. The most conspicuous change in the outside appearance of the school is the absence of the old brown fence. The hedge which takes its place has grown well during the summer, and the change is quite universally welcomed.

Owing to illness, Miss Pettigrew, who is to have charge of Miss Hovey's work this year, has been detained for a few weeks in Europe. The school has, however, been fortunate in securing the services of Miss Alice Sweeney for three weeks.

News has just come to the school that the Southern Freshman Scholarship at Mt. Holyoke College has been awarded to Miss Anne Vanderslice, one of last year's senior class.

Estate of William M. Wood Jr., Filed for Probate

The will of the late William M. Wood, Jr., of Andover, killed in an automobile accident on the Boston-Lawrence boulevard at Reading on the afternoon of August 15, has been filed in the court house at Salem for probate and for the purposes of the probate bond the value of his estate is estimated at $100,000, $1 personal.

The will, dated May 24, 1919, contains among other bequests, legacies of $300 which shall be paid yearly for the period of their life time, to Miss Eleanor Galvin and Miss Amelia B. Fisher, nurse and housekeeper, respectively, for the mother of the deceased over a long period of years.

Cornelius A. Wood, his brother, is left the jewelry of the deceased, according to the terms of the will, and to the widow, is given all household effects, automobiles and fixtures. The residue of the estate is left in trust to William M. Wood, Sr., father, and Cornelius A. Wood, brother, with the provisions that they pay the net income to his widow during her life. After her death, the income is to be paid to his children until they reach the age of thirty years, when one third of the principal of the trust fund is to be divided between them; another third when they reach the age of 35 years and the remainder when they reach the age of forty years.

Cafeteria Supper at Guild House Tonight

Home-cooked food in abundance will be served at the cafeteria supper to be held by the women of the Legion Auxiliary at the Guild house this evening from 5.30 to 7.30. The menu consists of shrimp wiggle, meat and oyster patties, cold ham and potato salad, scalloped potato, banana shortcake, ice cream sandwiches with fudge sauce, rolls and coffee.

This is the first of a series of suppers planned to be held for the raising of money for the organization. Following the supper dancing will be enjoyed and whilst tables will be arranged for those who do not care to dance.

The committee in charge is made up of the captains of the various teams which are raising money for the work of the legion auxiliary: Mrs. Freeman Abbott, Mrs. John Henderson, Mrs. Frank M. Foster, Mrs. Harry Gouck, and Mrs. Douglas Hutcherson with Mrs. Fred G. Cheney as chairman.

Accident Near Railroad Bridge Sunday Night

Four automobiles piled up below the railroad bridge on North Main street Sunday night resulted in injuries to only one of the passengers, Mrs. Mary Desmusz of Lawrence, who was cut about the chin by flying glass, and in several damaged cars. It is said that Alexander Desmusz of 243 Prospect street, Lawrence, was driving along North Main street toward Lawrence on the left hand side of the road in the path of automobiles traveling toward Andover on the same side of the highway.

The car of Desmusz first crashed into the automobile operated by Clarence Kimball of 4 Edgar street, Methuen, and continuing on its zig-zag course hit an automobile driven by Clarence B. Clark of 45 Newport street, Methuen, and locked wheels with a Pierce Arrow car belonging to Robert Reed of 68 Pond street, South Weymouth. This last impact brought the Desmusz car to a standstill but the collision was so great that the big Pierce Arrow car was driven back and the gears of the auto belonging to Fred Spire of 149 Middle street, New Bedford, were stripped.

Mrs. Mary Desmusz, wife of the driver of the Desmusz car was cut about the chin by flying glass and was taken to Stacey's drug store where first aid was given. The forward part of the Desmusz car was badly damaged.

Desmusz was arrested on a charge of reckless driving, and locked up in the police station, but was later released on bail. He will appear in police court this afternoon to answer the charge preferred against him.

Obituary*ALVIN SUMNER LYON

Alvin Sumner Lyon, the fourteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Lyon of 78 Main street, passed quietly away Tuesday morning, September 26, 1922, at their summer home in Nahant. The sympathy of the entire community goes out to the father and mother and little brother at this time.

Sumner Lyon was a boy of rare qualities, greatly beloved by his many playmates and friends. He was exceedingly thoughtful of others, a deep thinker, and he had a keen love for the good and beautiful which was shown in part by his violin playing. In sports as well as everywhere else he showed a sense of honesty and fairness.

We can not call his life unfinished or broken for he had lived a perfect and complete life, accomplishing his work here, and was ready for a higher grade. His going brings heaven nearer to those who are left and it is a joy to know that he and his sister Alvina, who took the journey just two years ago, are happy together. Death is not an accident but an unfolding of the Divine Plan and an opening of the gate into a richer, fuller life.

There is no death; although we grieve
When beautiful, familiar forms
That we have learned to love are torn
From our embracing arms.

We feel upon our aching brow
Their gentle touch, their breath of balm;
Their arms enfold us, and our hearts
Grow comforted and calm.

And ever near us, though unseen,
The dear immortal spirits tread —
For all the boundless universe
Is life — there are no dead!

Tuesday Club Rummage Sale next Month

The Tuesday club Rummage Sale will be held on Friday October 20 at the Guild house. Contributions of all descriptions are earnestly solicited.

Everyone interested in a worthy work can assist in it by helping to make this sale a success, and at the same time dispose of articles no longer valuable to them, but which will be useful to others.

Members of the committee will be at the guild on Wednesday and Thursday, October 18 and 19 to receive contributions. Anyone wishing to have things collected may arrange for it by calling Andover 69.

Everyone interested in the sale, either as a contributor or as a purchaser is asked to remember the time—9 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Friday, October 20, at the Guild house.

Christian Endeavor Society Chooses Committees

The officers of the West Church Christian Endeavor Society met on Tuesday and the following committee were chosen:—

Look-out—Mrs. Newman Matthews, Abbie Lewis.

Sunshine—Mr. Matthews, Lena Davis.
Social—James Carter, Roger Lewis, Raymah Wright, Mrs. Matthews.

Organist at Notre Dame, Paris, to Play in Andover

Andover will have the good fortune to hear this winter probably the world's greatest organist—he has been so termed by M. Vierne, the great French organ composer—Marcel Dupre, organist at Notre Dame, Paris. Mr. Dupre sometime ago performed the perfectly astounding feat of playing from memory the complete organ works of Bach—there are 9 Vols. in the Peters edition. While visiting America last year in connection with the dedication of the new Wanamaker organ in New York, M. Dupre amazed the musicians of the country by his marvellous improvisation including a complete symphony based upon themes presented by New York musicians.

Record Breaking Leap

A man, who was to make a trip on a certain steamer, arrived at the pier just as the vessel was starting—in fact, she was already on the move.

Taking a flying leap, he covered the intervening space of six or eight feet at a bound but tripped and struck his head on the deck, which temporarily stunned him.

When he recovered his senses, the vessel was a couple of hundred yards out at sea.

"Holy Moses!" he exclaimed, not realizing what had happened, "what a jump!"

Pythian Sisters Present Gifts

At the regular meeting of the Pythian Sisters held in Garfield hall Wednesday evening presentation of gifts to two of the members was a part of the good of the order.

Mrs. Henry Fairweather, who leaves for Catalina, Cal., was presented with a fine hand bag of leather, and Miss Jean MacDonald, past chief, who is to be married this next month, was the recipient of a beautiful pair of blankets and a bedspread.

Refreshments were served during the social hour by the good of the order committee and the guests of honor given many good wishes.

To Entertain Andover Association of Churches

The ladies of the Benevolent society and Helping Hand society of the Free church met after church on Sunday noon and chose a committee to prepare for the supper to be given the visiting ministers at the meeting of Andover Association of churches which will be held in the Free church on October 26.

The members of the committee chosen were Mrs. H. A. Ramsdell, Mrs. Thomas Peters, Mrs. William Faulkner, Mrs. William Morrisey, Mrs. Dana Clark. The association includes churches from Lowell, Dracut, Tewksbury, Chelmsford, Lawrence, Methuen, North Andover and Andover.

In a lecture on memories Dr. Clarence P. Ramsay of Chicago said: "There are many queer kinds of memory training systems. There is even a fantastic method of mnemonics based on the principle of opening and shutting the pores—however that is done. But just the other day I heard of a new method. A man went into a cheap restaurant and asked for a bill of fare. The waiter said: 'We ain't got none, boss, but I can rattle off the grub for you.' Good as his word, the waiter 'rattled off a list of dishes several yards long. The man was lost in astonishment. 'You must employ a memory system. How on earth do you remember all that?' 'That's easy, said the waiter, 'no system at all boss, I just looks at the tablecloth.'"

Memorial Tower Given By Descendants of Samuel Fuller

The above sketch gives Townsman Readers an idea of the Memorial tower now in process of construction on the Old Training Field on the Hill which is given by the descendants of Samuel Fuller who attended Phillips Academy, in memory of the graduates and students of Phillips academy who laid down their lives for their country in time of war.

The cornerstone was laid on Commencement Day, June 16, the dedicatory address being given by Major Marlborough Church.

The tower, 139 feet high, is to be built of brick and granite, ornamented at its base with tablets of stone, recording the names of the dead in the various wars of our country.

The tower is to be 20 feet square at the base tapering toward the top and surmounted by a wooden steeple similar in construction to the Old South Meeting House in Boston. The first 18 feet will be made of granite blocks with upper construction of brick.

The door of the tower will face on Main street, opening into a domed room, out of which stairs will lead to the upper part of the tower. The steeple of the tower will contain a clock with chimes and will be topped with a weathervane symbolical in design.

Guy Lowell of Boston is the architect and the E. W. Pitman company of Lawrence are the contractors.

Communication Emancipated from Its Dependence on Transportation

"The struggle of humanity since the beginning of things has been to improve conditions of life," says H. B. Thayer, President of the American Telephone & Telegraph Company. "Commerce is the exchange of products of industry. Without it every individual would be limited in his means of sustenance, in his comfort, in his luxuries, and without it the conditions of life would not be much better than those of the savage."

"But commerce saves time, which man can put on other work, either improving the quality of what he does, increasing its quantity, or extending its variety. In consequence the day-laborer of today has conveniences and luxuries more numerous and more desirable than any that were known to the rich of 100 years ago. In France before the Revolution it was not uncommon for starvation to be threatening a district while within a few miles the crops were rotting in the ground. Similar conditions existed in America in the Colonial days."

"The vast improvement in conditions we enjoy has been brought about by commerce and the industries which commerce has developed. Commerce crystallizes human life into material prosperity. Commerce operates by means of two agencies—transportation and communication. And until the nineteenth century, transportation and communication went hand in hand. All inventive ingenuity had been lavished on transportation made for its carriage purposes. Then came a revolutionary improvement—an improvement that was to emancipate communication from its dependence upon transportation. This was the electric telegraph."

"Up to 45 years ago all methods of communication at a distance were still substituted by conversation. Even when electricity brought the telegraph, the message had still to be translated into dot and dash system of signals and then retranslated into common language again. The telephone brushed aside all substitutes at once and made conversation by word of mouth possible. At first available for short distances and between a limited number of people, it has rapidly increased its range until now anyone in the United States can talk with anyone else without undertaking the journey that was essential to the early trader to have the same privilege."

Many Used to Ridicule the "Toy of 1876"

Alexander Graham Bell said that had he known less about acoustics and more about electricity he never would have invented the telephone. When he adopted the profession of teacher of the deaf and dumb he followed in the footsteps of his father and grandfather. A doctor furnished him with a dead man's ear and while studying it the vision of the telephone flashed on Bell's agile mind. He declared: "If I can make a deaf-mute talk I can make iron talk."

The Times of London in 1877 called the telephone an "American humbug," and pronounced it "far inferior to the well-established system of speaking tubes." Five years ago the owner of the Times, Lord Northcliffe, sat at a desk in New York and placed a telephone receiver to each ear. In the one he heard the surf at Coney Island, in the other the breakers at the Golden Gate. Equally distinct, the one sound traveled 10 miles, the other 4000. Americans used to ridicule the "toy" of 1876, but a few years ago its use was so universal in this country that single office buildings in New York City had more instruments than the whole of Greece, the city itself had almost as many as all Great Britain and Ireland, Boston had more than Austria-Hungary, and the United States, as a whole, had three of every four telephones the world over.

Nature's Way

Brown, who was a newly made Benedict, looked up his friend Jones, a family man of long experience, and put the question to him: "Jim, what did you call your mother-in-law after you were married?" "Well," replied Jones, "it was this way. For the first year I called her 'Say' and after that we all called her 'Grandma.'—Argonaut.

WEST PARISH:

Little Charlie, four-year-old son of Avedis and Rose Oconian, Lowell street, died of diphtheria early Saturday morning.

The Lafollet club will hold its annual meeting and election of officers on Thursday evening with Mrs. Herbert F. Carter, Lowell street.

A barge will leave Shawheen at 10 o'clock on Sundays beginning next Sunday so that all residents of Shawheen who wish to attend West Parish church made do so. It will return at the close of the services.

The Woman's club of Andover Grange will hold an afternoon and evening meeting on Tuesday at Grange hall. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Burt, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Swanton, Milo Gould and Charlotte Hill will entertain.

Announcements have been received of the birth of a daughter, Grace (weight 8½ pounds) to Mr. and Mrs. John Dole of Shawheen road. Mr. Dole is the new owner of the Abbott house on the corner of Lowell street and Shawheen road.

Andover Grange gave a reception to Andover teachers at its meeting on Tuesday evening. About forty were present and all most enjoyable evening was spent by all. Nathan C. Hamblin gave the address of the evening. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

An interesting party and demonstration of Wear-ever Aluminum Ware was held at the home of Miss Florence Pike, Thursday afternoon. Thirty ladies were invited and a jolly time was enjoyed and many new uses for aluminum were learned, some being fuel-savers, some labor-savers and all being very practical. Mr. Short of Methuen was the demonstrator.

Many Andover people attended the Essex County Fair at Topsheld the last three days of last week. It was the biggest and best fair ever held. The Grange exhibits were very fine. The live stock and poultry were most interesting. The Ayshire cattle from the American Woolen company's farm took first prize. Chester Ward of Lowell street won first prize on both Indian Runner ducks and drake and second and fourth prizes on single comb Rhode Island Red cockerels. One of the interesting features of Saturday afternoon was the start of the Myopia Club Cross Country Run. Before starting they rode around the half-mile race track led by a tally-ho belonging to Jerome Cross of Andover. The fair was financially successful.

Keen Interest Shown in Educational Film

Returns from a questionnaire on motion pictures, sent to some 3,000 extension agents by the United States Department of Agriculture, indicate that county agents and other extension workers in general are keenly interested in educational films. Of 982 agents reporting, 815 are in favor of using motion pictures in their work, 13 opposed to them, and 145 noncommittal.

About one-third of the agents reporting say that they use motion pictures, and about one-half of those who use pictures have had experience with portable projectors. Only 8 per cent of those who use portable projectors have found them unsatisfactory.

There is strong demand for more films on live-stock subjects, club work, soil improvement, and cooperative marketing.

Many agents ask for "more fun" or "more human interest" in educational films, and there is considerable complaint of slow distribution. This last objection the department hopes will be met eventually by the establishment of adequate State distributing centers.

Get him one as soon as you can.

WHEN the torrid days come to fret the baby and the nasty flies are making him pug his little nose in wrinkles of disgust, one of the fans we are now showing will drive the heat and flies away. It is reasonable summer time comfort for the whole family. Buy an electric fan.

Christian Endeavor Union Meeting

The quarterly meeting of the Andover Christian Endeavor union was held with the South church society Monday evening with a good attendance from each society in the union.

Rev. George F. Beecher of the First Baptist church of Lawrence was the speaker of the evening and his message was "The Opportunities for Service." He dwelt on this theme interestingly and told of the many ways in which the young people could be of service in the church, Sunday school and Christian Endeavor society, if they would use the force of their personal initiative.

A vote of thanks was extended to Mr. Beecher for his inspiring words.

Routine business was transacted during the first part of the evening and after the talk the roll of societies was taken. This resulted in the Free church obtaining the banner, as it had 66 2-3 per cent of its members present. The other percentages were as follows: Ballardvale, 42; North Andover, 33 1-3; South, 68; and West 50. The business meeting closed with the Miphath benediction.

Following the meeting refreshments of ice cream and cookies were served by the South Society.

Alpha Phi Chi Sorority

The first meeting of the Alpha Phi Chi sorority of the Free church for the coming season was held Monday evening in the parish house and officers elected for the coming year. They are: Bertha Guthill, president; Helen Nicoll, vice president; Etta Brown, secretary; Jean Donald, treasurer; Ina Petrie, chaplain; Jemima Walker, guardian; Martha Moore, conductor.

The instructor, Mrs. Dana Clark, told of tentative plans for the coming year and announced that a series of open meetings are to be held, at which time speaker will be present. She hoped that the girls would make a special effort to be present during the meetings, and make the society a success.

Refreshments of coffee and cookies were served.

No Redress for Torn Shirt

Sylvian Bernard of South Main street, who had imbibed a little too much moonshine, was arrested last Friday night after a fracas in the Essex street lunch cart, in which Bernard's shirt was torn.

He was creating a disturbance in the lunch cart, and had to be put out by the proprietor. Demanding justice for his torn shirt, Bernard told Officer Leonard Saunders his tale of woe, after approaching the officer in a rather wandering course in his automobile. The officer had no pity for the shirt, but locked Bernard up for the night on a charge of drunkenness. He was arraigned in court on Saturday morning, and fined seventy-five dollars for operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor.

South Church Notes

Rally Sunday is observed by the South Church School October 1, when a full attendance of the School will enjoy a special program. The rally of the church at the morning service is called the "Come-to-Church Sunday" and many of the Parish who have been away during the summer are expected to fill their places on this day.

The regular meeting of Ballardvale lodge No. 105, was held Monday evening with Chief Templar Charles Litchfield in the chair. The call for meeting of Merrimack Valley District lodge to be held at Newburyport on October 12 was read and it was voted that the election of delegates and alternates be laid on the table until the next meeting. The special Good of the Order in charge of William MacDonald and James Miller consisted of a clipping party which caused considerable fun and amusement.

Former Pastor Made Elder

Word has been received from Rev. C. A. Wintringham a former pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, stating that he has been made elder.

Mr. Wintringham is now preaching at Acadia, Ohio, where he has charge of three churches. In the letter received he states that big plans are on foot for the winter's work.

He wishes to be remembered to all his friends in the Vale.

Wedding

FONE—MOODY

A wedding of special interest took place last Friday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock when Miss Emily Mabel Moody, younger daughter of Mrs. Emma Moody of Clark road, was united in marriage to Frederick Gordon Fone of Boston.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. George Moody, an uncle of the bride, in the presence of about sixty guests. The double ring service was used. Miss Helen Louise Moody, a cousin of the bride, played the wedding music as the bridal party entered the parlor for the ceremony.

The bride was charmingly dressed in white satin meteor and her tulle veil was caught with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and sweet peas. She was attended by her sister Mrs. Ernest Rollins, as matron of honor and her gown was of pink charmeuse pongee, her bouquet being pink roses. William Fone of Lawrence, a brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held and the newly married pair received the congratulations and best wishes of the many friends assembled. The house was decorated with cut flowers, hydrangeas, dahlias, gladioli and ferns being used in profusion.

Mrs. Fone is a member of the local Methodist church and is popular in musical circles. She has been employed as bookkeeper in the Congregational Publishing house in Boston.

After a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Fone will make their home in Ballardvale.

The steam shovel has pursued its relentless way along the east side of Main street from Chestnut street to Elm square during the past week. Among the landmarks which have been destroyed in its passing are the granite hitching posts with their iron rings which for many years have stood implanted firmly in the curbing. Their usefulness has passed as motors are supposed to stand without hitching and horse-drawn vehicles are usually favored with the partial section from traffic afforded by Barnard street when their owners' business keeps them for some time in the center of town. The hitching posts on the opposite side of the street in front of the Bank building are also gone. These will be solely missed by patrons of the street car whose weary hours of waiting through many years, their surface has been worn smooth by this office to mankind rather than by the service for which they were originally placed along Main street.

On Wednesday the old cistern in front of the Town house saw light for the first time since the road was last resurfaced. The teeth of the steam shovel caught under the corner of the huge stone collar nearly a foot thick and more than four feet square, which supported the cover, and tipped it over revealing a reservoir, now only about eight feet deep and two-thirds full of water. We are told that it was originally twenty-five feet deep, and twenty-five feet across, but now almost filled with soft sand similar to that which has to be periodically removed from the catch basins.

Its original purpose was to provide a reservoir of water in case of fire and it is said to have been used when a barn was burned at the rear of what is now the Andover Press in the late winter of 1883. Another informant says that the reservoir was not used at this time, that water was pumped directly from Rogers brook, but he recalls another occasion when he is positive it was used. Having borrowed an old hand tub to take the place of the engine which was undergoing repairs, it was found necessary to soak it up and it was taken to the reservoir in front of the town house for practice. The ancient waters soon flooded the square filling the air with effluvia which made the incident a regrettable experience.

This reservoir was one of a series built for fire protection in various parts of the town. Others are situated on Essex street near the post office, on Central street near the residence of Dennis Sweeney, on High street near Paul Simeone's, on Elm street near the corner of Maple avenue, on Summer street near the Charles Baldwins, on Pearson street and other parts of the town in places almost forgotten.

Other landmarks which have recently passed are the wooden fence in front of the Abbot academy grounds and the arbor vine hedge in front of the Draper homestead on School street.

A fence similar in style to the one just removed, with its substantial turned posts and squared cross pieces may be seen in some of the earliest pictures of the old Abbot hall when it stood in its original position facing the street.

The privet hedge set out two years ago has made a good growth and the removal of the old fence emphasizes the beauty of the new gateways whose ironwork is just now being freshened with a new coat of paint.

Yesterday afternoon the electric car from Lawrence resumed its trip through the square connecting with the bus at Chestnut street, passengers continuing their journey along Main street to the top of the Hill instead of detouring by School or Bartlett streets as has been necessary for many months. Encouraged by the sight of the bus, several automobiles attempted to drive the length of Main street only to find it closed at the lower end and adding one more complication to the troubles of the traffic officer in the square.

Chapter VI Continued

But no one noticed Monona, and she did not defer even to Dwight. She who measured delicate, troc occasions by avoidance, said brightly: "No, Di. You must tell us all about it. Where had you and Aunt Lulu been with mamma's new bag?" "Ina," said Lulu, "I can't w hear something about your visit. How is—"

Her eyes consulted Dwight. His features dropped, the lines of his face dropped, its muscles seemed to sag. A look of suffering was in his eyes. "She'll never be any better," he said. "I know we've said good-by to her for the last time."

"Oh, Dwight!" said Lulu. "She knew it, too," he said. "It put me out of business, I can tell you. She gave me my start—she took all the care of me—taught me to read—she's the only mother I ever knew—" He stopped, and opened his eyes wide on account of their dimness.

But eventually they were back again before that new black bag. And Di would say nothing. She laughed, squirmed, grew irritable, laughed again.

"Put an end to this, Lulu," he commanded. "Where were you two—since you make such a mystery?"

Di's look at Lulu was piteous, terrified. Di's fear of her father was now clear to Lulu. And Lulu feared him, too. Abruptly she heard her self temporizing, for the moment making common cause with Di.

"Oh," she said, "we have a little secret. Can't we have a secret if we want one?"

"Upon my word," Dwight commented, "she has a beautiful secret. Don't know about your secrets, Lulu. Every time that he did this, the fleet, lifted look of Lulu's seemed to bleed.

"I'm glad for my dinner," remarked Monona at last. "Please excuse me. On that they all rose. Lulu stayed in the kitchen and did her best to make her tasks indefinitely last. She had nearly finished when Di burst in.

"Aunt Lulu, Aunt Lulu!" she cried. "Come in there—come. I can't stand it. What am I going to do?"

"Di, dear," said Lulu. "Tell your mother—you must tell her."

"She'll cry," Di sobbed. "The she'll tell papa—and he'll never stop talking about it. I know him—every day he'll keep it going. After he scolds me it'll be a joke for months. I'll die—I'll die, Aunt Lulu."

Ina's voice sounded in the kitchen. "What are you two whispering about? I declare, mamma's hurt. Di, at the way you're acting . . ."

"Let's go out on the porch," said Lulu, and when Di would have escaped, Ina drew her with them.

It was a warm dusk, moonless, windless. The sounds of the village street came in—laughter, a touch a piano, a chiming clock. Light starred and quickened in the blurred houses. Footsteps echoed on the board walks. The gate opened. The gloom yielded up Cornish.

"Di, Dear," said Lulu. "Tell Your Mother—You Must Tell Her."

Lulu was inordinately glad to see him. To have the strain of the trip broken by him was like hearing, on a lonely winter wakening, the electric strike reassuring dawn.

Cornish, in his gentle way, asked about the journey, about the old woman—and Dwight talked of the

Shawsheen A. A. Football Team

The outlook is bright for the new Shawsheen A. A. Football team which promises to be one of the best teams greater Lawrence has had in recent years.

Horace Harrison, one of the best backfield men in this vicinity, will manage the team and will also play regularly.

Among the men he has secured are the following well-known players: Buster Lucy, Jim Sullivan, the crack K. of C. batter, both also fine gridiron men; Hugh Bradbury, with the Buffaloes baseball and football star; Joe Leonard, crack Tremonts halfback of other years; Bruno, star guard of the Tremonts last season; Fleming, star end of the Clippers and South Lawrence A. A.; Joe Drummond, well remembered as the fine tackle of the Old Army A. A. team; Joe Fleming, guard on the Lawrence Canoe Club team two years ago; Brookline Harrison, centre on the South Lawrence A. A. and tackle for the Clippers; Francis Kennedy, former High school baseball and football star and quarterback last year for the Tremonts.

Manager Harrison has been busy signing up men and he has one or two stars in view. This imposing array of candidates should insure a fine team.

International Soccer Game to Be Played October 12

The Industrial league held a meeting at the American Woolen Company Welfare building on Monday evening. The following delegates and officers were present: President Smith, Vice President, James Riley; Secretary, Haggas; Thomas Gunter, American Woolen; J. Kenah, Abbot Worsted; A. Robinson, Mass. Cotton; A. Millington; Methuen; Fred Houghton, G. E. United; Vernon Dobson, Referees' association; and Mr. MacDonald, Shawsheen.

It was voted that the International game between England and Scotland be played on Balmoral field on October 12, and that the game commence at 2:30 p.m.

It was voted that a committee of three be appointed from the chair to select the international teams, the following being appointed by the chairman: John Kenah, chairman; Vernon Dobson and Thomas Gunter.

It was voted to send an invitation to William M. Wood and J. C. Abbot to kick off, Mr. Wood to start the first half, and Mr. Abbot to kick off in the second half.

Secretary Gunter of the American Woolen Company announces he has signed William Haddow, who played with Strathclyde, Scotland.

WOMEN'S CLUB MEETS

Miss S. Agnes Donham to Address Opening Meeting of Year. Miss McKnight Will Sing.

The Shawsheen Village Women's Club will begin its meetings for the year on Monday, October 2. This is the second year of the club and already it is in a most prosperous and flourishing condition.

The program committee, Mrs. Leonard Little, chairman, Mrs. Douglas Donald, Mrs. Robert Todd have worked hard to arrange the program for the year and judging from the year book, they have been most successful in providing a very pleasing and varied program.

On Monday evening at 7.45, Miss S. Agnes Donham, budget expert and lecturer on household economics, will speak on "The Proverbial Housewife." As educational director of the Association for the Promotion and Protection of Savings Miss Donham has done extensive work in budget planning. Hundreds of people of all classes and occupations and with yearly incomes ranging from $450 to $45,000 have sought the aid of Miss Donham and her assistant. As the result of the consultations they have devised a budget system that may be modified to suit the individual or family. No doubt all will enjoy the evening and perhaps learn to stretch a dollar.

Miss McKnight will sing a group of songs accompanied by Miss Martha Smith.

Athletic Meet

The Shawsheen Athletic meet is officially scheduled to take place on Saturday, October 7, on Balmoral field. The meet has been unavoidably delayed because of various changes and improvements to the field. A cement grandstand is being constructed with adequate seating capacity and a cinder track has been laid, which has been pronounced one of the finest of its kind in the state. A wire fence is being erected around the field and a new entrance being made where Balmoral street formerly crossed Burnham road. A stone archway is at present under construction at this entrance.

It is expected that some of the finest athletes in the state will compete for the valuable prizes that will be given. Such men as E. J. Ford and James Newell, well known to sporting fans, will be judges of the events.

If the national cup tie series do not interfere there will be a soccer game between Abbot Worsted and Shawsheen.

The following is the list of events: Marathon (5 miles), Methuen to Balmoral field and last mile on track. 100-yd. dash (closed). 100-yd. dash (open). Shot-put (open). Half-mile run (open). 100-yd. dash (closed), Finals. 100-yd. dash (open), Finals. 50-yd. dash (Department heads handicaps) Tug of war (open). 220-yd. dash (closed), Preliminary. 220-yd. dash (open), Preliminary. Boys' race under 12 years. Girls' race under 12 years. 220-yd. dash (open), Finals. 220-yd. dash (closed), Finals. 440-yd. run (closed). 440-yd. run (open). High jump (open). Broad jump (open). Relay (closed).

There will also be a baseball game between the No. 1 Washington Mill team and the champions of the inter-mill league in Providence. Last year the Washington Mill team journeyed to Providence and beat the champion Riverside Mill team and Providence is looking for vengeance and confidently expect to win on next Saturday.

PERSONALS

Arthur Bell of North Main street is ill at his home.

Mrs. James R. Wray of Stirling street has recovered from a recent illness.

C. L. Amby, agent of the American Woolen farms, attended the fair recently held in Topsfield, Mass.

Howard Dannels of Sutherland street has entered the Bentley school in Boston and is studying advanced accountancy.

Miss Emily Walker of the Homestead Association office is spending the week visiting her aunt at Niantic, Conn.

Edward D. Sirois of Sutherland street is attending the Northeastern University as a first year pupil in the law course.

William Fleming of Haverhill street has resumed his studies at Tufts Dental school after spending the summer at his home.

Miss Waltrude Collins of Union street has returned to Bridgewater Normal school where she will resume her studies in the senior year.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Peters have returned from their wedding trip and are spending a few days with Mrs. Peters' mother, Mrs. Matthew Burns of Dumbarton street.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Foss of Haverhill street are touring the New England states and are making stops at Bridgeport, Conn., and Keene, N. H. Mr. Foss is in the employ of the Shawsheen Garage.

Raymond Reddig who has been connected with the mechanical department of the Massachusetts Automobile club (considered one of the finest repair shops in the country) for several years has taken charge of the Shawsheen Garage service station.

Community Sunday School

The attendance at the first session of the Shawsheen Village Community Sunday school was very gratifying, 53 pupils being present. The number of teachers who attended, however, was disappointing. The Superintendent would like anyone interested in this work to kindly come forward as it is difficult to get in touch with everyone and several teachers are needed.

Sunday-School Teachers Meet

The Shawsheen Village Sunday-school Teachers' association met on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. George H. Winslow, North Main street. Plans for the coming year were talked over and general business transacted. Miss Ruth Dannels was elected to the position of vice president to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mrs. Law who has moved from the Village.

A very enjoyable evening was passed and refreshments were served by the hostesses. The regular meetings of the association will be held on the second Tuesday of each month.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Bell at 314 North Main street.

Bowling League Formed by Construction Department

A bowling league has been formed by the employees of the Construction Department at Shawsheen Village and great interest has been aroused among the eight teams entered. Each team will consist of five men and some exciting matches are looked for by the members and supporters.

F. G. Robertson of the Cabinet Makers has been chosen treasurer of the league. He is the only officer thus far chosen. The members of the teams are employed in various lines of construction work being done in the Village but many of them do not live in the Village but in greater Lawrence. All are greatly interested and the league promises to be one of the best in this entire section.

The league will formally open Tuesday night, October 3, on the Shawsheen alleys and the entire eight teams will roll on that night. William M. Wood, president of the American Woolen Company, George M. Wallace, president of the Shawsheen Athletic Association, and F. H. Hardy, superintendent of the Brush Factory, are among the dignitaries invited to witness the opening.

The league will continue throughout this fall and the entire winter. It is now planned to have the teams roll on Monday and Friday nights. The teams have the following names: Cabinet Makers, Landscape Artists, Truck Drivers, Garage Mechanics, Electricians, Plumbers, Painters, and Yard Men.

New Taxicab

The Shawsheen Garage is sporting a new taxicab made by the Yellow Taxicab Company, the largest company in the world, with factories at Chicago. The cab carries five passengers not including the driver and will operate under regular Boston Taxicab rates.

Tennis Tournament

The change to standard time has somewhat delayed the progress in the tennis tournament particularly in the singles. The upper half of the draw, however, reached the semi-final round on Wednesday when McGrath defeated Fyfe in straight sets and now plays Pratt, the winner going into the final round. In the lower half several matches still remain to be played with Paine and Draper the probable semi-finalists.

In the doubles, the team of McGrath and Pratt have reached the finals where they will meet the winners of the Hardy-Todd, Paine-Fyfe match.

Karl G. Harig has presented three silver cups as prizes for the tournament, two for the doubles winners and one to be the permanent prize of the singles winner who also has his name inscribed on the Balmoral Cup and holds possession of it until it is again competed for at the next annual tournament.

To gain permanent possession of this trophy, it must be won three times although not necessarily in three consecutive years.

A. W. CO. 2, SHAWSHEEN 2

Local Teams Fight Hard Battle with Both Groups Displaying Fine Soccer, Before Enthusiastic Crowd.

Last Saturday the American Woolen Company and Shawsheen Soccer teams officially opened the season with the above teams opposing each other. This game brought out a good crowd to witness a fine game that resulted in a tie score of 2 goals each. George M. Wallace was honored with the kick off and was given a great hand.

Watson won the toss from the Woolen team and Lowe started the ball rolling. Butler gave Rennie a chance to show his heels but he finished a good move by a weak shot which was well cleared by Deyermund. Haddon sent W. Deyermund away and from his center, Lowe shot past when well placed. Rennie was again in the picture with a nice run down the touch line but shot from goal instead of passing into his forwards and a good chance was lost.

The American Woolen were having most of the play at this time and Deyermund was kept busy with shots from Wilson and Law. The Shawsheen backs were wavering and Deyermund partly cleared a shot from Wilson, and Law quickly took advantage of the chance and banged the ball into the net. The Shawsheen team pressed for a while and Higginbottom and Butler were called upon to show their wares. A nice kick by Higginbottom relieved the Woolen team and only a little slow for a time. Sullivan came through and gave Rennie a good chance but as usual he shot over. The game was leveling up a little and some fast play was seen on both sides. A nice play by Stewart gave Law an opening and from a nice center, Wilson put the American Woolen two goals ahead.

The Shawsheen forward came away from the restart and Law went through the Woolen team's defense and missed by inches. This was one of the best plays of the game. Midfield play followed and half time was called with the score American Woolen Co. 2, Shawsheen 0.

Wilson started the second half and Sullivan was away but Jackson sent the ball back to the home goal only to see Gordon run the ball out of play. Shawsheen still kept up the attack and from a center by Skea, Lowe scored the first goal for the Villagers. A few minutes later Caldwell was penalized for handling inside the area but Law scored a rugby goal.

The next play of interest was a nice run by Rennie, which this time put across a good center which was well cleared by Jackson. Haddon put the ball out to Deyermund who returned the ball to Lowe but Higginbottom cleared a dangerous position. The Shawsheen team was working hard now and Higginbottom and Butler were kept on the move.

The Villagers were rewarded when Wallace fumbled a good shot from Lowe, Deyermund making no mistake in evening up the score. The Woolen team now made desperate attempts to gain the lead but the defense of Caldwell and Jackson was not to be beaten. From a well placed kick by Caldwell, Barclay gave Law a good chance but Coleman was too sharp for him and intercepted the pass and sent Gordon away on the left, but Butler cleared his center. Both teams were working hard for a goal but the defense prevailed and time was called with the score two goals each.

The Shawsheen team promises to be a strong factor in the league. All played well for the opening game and it would be hard to single out any individual. Barclay received a bad injury in the first ten minutes.

American Woolen Company Cattle Win Prizes at Topsfield Fair

The American Woolen company cattle took practically all the blue ribbon first prizes and won the Commonwealth of Massachusetts award of a silver medal at the Topsfield Fair on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week.

Dunlop Sunspot, an imported bull from Scotland, won the first blue ribbon prize as the best two-year-old in his class and also took the prize as champion of Ayrshires.

The fact that Dunlop Sunspot took the first prizes is not surprising when one knows something of his history. The following is an account of his record and that of his sire, etc.

The unbeaten yearling of 1921. First prize at New England Fair, New York State Fair, Eastern States Exposition, Waterloo Dairy Cattle Congress, National Dairy Show, Western Royal and Pacific International. Born February 15, 1920.

Howies Hot Stuff (his sire),—1919: First as a yearling at Kilmarnock and the Highland, sold for 1700 gs. 1920: First and champion at Ayr, Glasgow, the Royal and the Highland. 1922: First and champion at Ayr, Glasgow and the Royal.

Howies Sir Hugh (the sire of his dam),—Winner of more honors than any other Ayrshire bull in the history of Scotland, including the Gold Medal as best Ayrshire at Glasgow, the Fife and Kinross, 200 lb. Gold Cup as best Ayrshire at the Highland and winner of the Ayrshire Herd Book Society's cup at Ayr Show three years in succession.

Scottish Records of Dam—1913: 10,060 lbs. of 4.00 per cent milk. 1914: 11,170 lbs. of 4.18 per cent milk.

Sire of Shevalton Mains Dorothy with a Scottish record of 12,220 lbs. of 3.97 per cent milk as a two-year-old.

Brae Rising Star—(the grandsire of his dam), Champion male at Ayr, Kilmarnock and Glasgow, 1911 and 1912. Sire of 9 A. R. daughters with 17 completed records that average 10,690 lbs. milk, 427.63 lbs. fat.

Dyke Crocus, Ayrshire imported from Scotland, won the first prize and champion in her class. She has to date—300 days—produced approximately 13,560 lbs. of milk as a two-year-old. She also took all the sweepstake prizes last year at all the fairs from Syracuse, N. Y., to Spokane, Washington. She was at that time pronounced the best Ayrshire heifer in the United States.

Another very handsome animal coming from Quebec, Canada, took the second prize as a two-year-old.

In the Hog Department the Red Duorc Jersey won the first prize.

This is considered a fine record for the American Woolen Company Farms as it is the first year they have shown their cattle at a fair.

The yoke of oxen from Arden farm, property of William M. Wood, won the blue ribbon first prize.

A cordial invitation is extended to anyone wishing to visit the farms, between the hours of 11:00 to 12:00 and 1:00 to 2:30.

Bowling on the Shawsheen Alleys

On Friday evening two special matches of interest were rolled on the new Shawsheen alleys. The first match was advertised for the championship of Shawsheen Village between two teams, respectively the Never Beers and the Woolen Beers. The latter took all four points. The carpenter took the machinists into camp, winning three out of the four points.

Dancing at the Shawsheen Manor

On Saturday evening, October seventh, the Shawsheen Manor will hold the first of a series of dinner dances that Manager Joseph DeAcutis plans to continue weekly throughout the winter season.

An excellent orchestra has been engaged and a special dinner will be served, from 7 to 11:30 p.m.

Women's Club Committee Meet

On Wednesday afternoon at half past three, Mrs. George H. Winslow and Mrs. Donald Carter, assisted by the board of directors of the Shawsheen Village Women's club, were hostesses to about thirty members of the club. Every member of the different committees was present and the work and plans for the coming season was talked over and a very enjoyable afternoon spent.

Mrs. William A. Trow and Mrs. Robbins poured out about thirty.

Woman's Club Sale and Dance

The first of a series of Bakery sales to be held by the Shawsheen Village Women's club was held at the Balmoral Spa, Friday afternoon. The tables, which were attractively trimmed with fall flowers and crepe paper were set outside the Spa and were loaded with good things all home made. Cake, pies, bread, doughnuts, preserves and cookies were quickly sold out and a generous sum of money netted for the treasury.

In the evening dancing was enjoyed by a large number of people on the outside dancing floor, to music furnished by Sinclair's orchestra. The day was ideal for the sale and dance which was a complete success.

Those who had charge of the affair were Mrs. F. B. Bartlett, Mrs. P. B. Blades, Mrs. A. Horman, Mrs. Fred Morrison and Mrs. Ignatius MacNulty.

Fifty Years Ago in the Street Railway Service

The 50th anniversary in the street railway industry of Elwin C. Foster, president of the Manchester (N. H.) Traction, Light and Power Co., recalls to mind the early days in New England of horse cars, strap rails, kerosene lamps, and the little salamander coal stove with its elongated, snake-like funnel terminating outside the car. The stove set in a wooden, stilted frame fitting into and filling the doorway. This cumbersome apparatus which undoubtedly disturbed the shades of Ben Franklin sent most of its cherished warmth out through the funnel. Its adjustment was such that it could be moved from one end of the car to the other. This was done at each trip termination. In winter, straw covered the floor to keep the feet of passengers comfortable.

The strap rail was followed by the tram rail. Some tee rails used at that time weighed 35 pounds per yard, which was very light weight and would hardly meet the requirements of our present day electric car. The feeble kerosene lamps at each car end were encouraged by the addition of a monitor top to the car, in the center of which a light with a reflector was installed. This was followed by two lights but the two end lights were still continued.

At that time the Lynn & Boston line had a limited number of open cars containing iron frames for the support of the striped canvas canopy tops. The horses were attached by a pole connected to their harness with a whiffletree fastened to the bumper or draw-bar of the car. These poles were later abandoned save during the winter when a four-horse hitch was necessary.

When a new car was placed in service it was customary to assign the most popular driver and conductor to that car on its first run. The car was decorated with flags and vari-colored plumes. It was an honor and a privilege to be a first-run passenger.

In the spring of 1888 the Lynn and Boston Company built one mile of track at Revere Beach bonded for electrical operation and with the present type of overhead system. In 1892 a modern power station was constructed in Lynn and during the following year one in Chelsea.

The Story of Our States

By JONATHAN BRACE
XLV.—OKLAHOMA
OKLAHOMA holds the record for rapid growth. It was in the first term of President

Benjamin Harrison that Oklahoma was opened up. Good farm land available under the Homestead Act was difficult to find so the United States bought from the Indians, who had been segregated in Indian territory, a large tract of some 40,000 square miles that had been used largely by the Indians as pasture for their cattle and horses. This was called Oklahoma, a word meaning "fine country," and was arranged to be ready for sale to homesteaders at 12 o'clock noon of April 22, 1889. Troops were placed on guard to prevent any settlers entering before that time for more than 100,000 "boomers" as they were called, came from all over the country to obtain farms or places for business. On the stroke of the hour, bugles sounded and the mad rush by men, women and children to locate claims began. The government had arranged land officers at many places at which claims could be filed for the farms or city lots, and all that day these were besieged by fighting mobs to register their selections. Before nightfall hundreds of farms were staked out and Oklahoma City and Guthrie were well on their way to become cities.

Thus was developed this region which came into the possession of the United States as a part of the Louisiana Purchase in 1803 and which was set aside for so many years as Indian country. Previous to the formation of Oklahoma territory, congress had forbidden white settlers in this part of the country, and this edict was enforced by federal troops. As the demand for more land was felt and as the Indians decreased in numbers, Indian territory was added to Oklahoma territory, and in 1907 it was admitted to the Union as the State of Oklahoma, adding another star to our flag, which has seven years had contained forty-five. The state has flourished to such an extent that it has ten presidential electors, which is more than double that of many of the older states of larger size.
